

HANNA HAS A HARD FIGHT

Lacks Three Votes of Election.

The Opposition Strongly Organized.

The Senator Confident He Will
"Win Out," But His Friends Uncertain.

COLUMBUS, O., January 3.—The senatorial contest in the Ohio legislature has come despatched. The combination of ten anti-Hanna Republicans with the Democratic members won at the caucus last Saturday night and again today in organizing both branches of the legislature in the interest of the "combine" opposition to the re-election of Senator Marcus Hanna.

There are two more days for the test of the strength of the joint senatorial caucuses, next Wednesday and the balloting for senator Wednesday January 12th. The complexion of the legislative organization and the patronage division of the Hanna men tonight began a most desperate fight on the senator's ship.

The Hanna men deny that they will form a combination with Brice for a gold senator rather than be beaten by a free silver Republicans, or that they will do anything else but fight it out if it takes all winter.

While they are not able to give a list long enough to elect, they claim that Hanna is stronger than Boxwell and the other regular Republican candidates in the organization of the legislature and that the opposition has not enough votes to elect a senator. The Hanna men concede that they have lost the power of their organization of both branches.

The developments of last Saturday night and today have caused the Hanna men to admit that they were outside in the preliminary organization for this contest and that they underestimated the opposition and especially the extent of it since the November election.

While ex-Chairman Kurtz was thought to have been organizing against Senator Hanna ever since the Republican state convention at Toledo in June, yet the participation of Governor Bushnell and others had not been fully anticipated. The Democratic state headquarters have been kept in operation by Mr. McLellan and others ever since the November election, ostensibly to prepare for a grand free silver carnival here on Jackson day, January 29th.

It now transpires that the Democratic state headquarters were kept open to get all the Democratic members in line for what took place today and for the defeat of Hanna. Meantime Mr. Kurtz was marshalling every possible Republican in line against Hanna and communicating with the committee on arrangements for Jackson day. When this fact was no longer concealed tonight by the opposition there were many Republicans openly complaining against Senator Hanna's managers. Senator Hanna did not arrive here until last Friday evening, and was in Washington until the holiday recess. He heard complaints about his own absence and about underestimating the organization of the opposition in a very good natural manner and insisted that he would yet win out.

The superior organization of the Democrats was shown in the combine securing today nearly all of the doubtful votes. The opposition has had an army of workers here for a week with detachments kept close to each one of the doubtful Republicans. The opposition marched to the state house in line like troops, and worked for weeks like soldiers under orders. They had been doing picket duty, skirmishing and walking guard lines, and they had their triumphal march in the most unusual manner because of confidence in their organization. The wives and daughters of the combination secured seats in advance in the legislative halls awaiting the arrival of the Hanna hosts and the most elaborate decorations were on hand.

The feeling of the Republican members who voted for their various nominees is openly expressed against Governor Bushnell more than against Kurtz or other Republicans who combined with the Democrats.

The State Journal, the Republican organ of Ohio, prints a large picture of the governor, with heavy black borders. Some Republican clubs have canceled their engagement of quarters here for the inauguration exercises next Monday, and many protests are being received at these houses.

Colonel T. W. Moore of Marietta, another appointed of Governor Bushnell, today resigned as trustee of the State Insane Asylum at Athens.

The feeling of revenge was shown even in the routine legislative proceedings. Representative Bramley of Cleveland introduced a bill to repeal the fifty year franchise law for street railways, in which Senator Hanna is largely interested. Bramley is a contractor who had large contracts under the municipal administration of Mayor McKisson and other members from Cleveland who are supporting Hanna. The bill was ready for passage by resolution at the county convention that would affect Bramley.

Representative Jones of Stark county, a Republican, who is opposing Hanna, has been frequently reminded that the county convention that nominated him adopted a strong resolution instructing him to support Hanna. Mr. Jones was chairman of the committee on resolutions in that county convention and declared himself for Hanna. Today Mr. Jones offered a very strong Cuban resolution that is in conflict with Senator Hanna's vote on the Cuban question in the senate. Representative Scott of Fulton county, who voted with the "combine" today and who is opposing Senator Hanna's re-election, was also instructed by resolution at the county convention that nominated him.

Both sides are spending the night in closed conference. All the changes that are being sought are anticipated from representatives. It is conceded that Senator Burke, one of the Republican senators from Cleveland who has not yet appeared, will be here to vote against Hanna. His attorney, today presented his certificate of election to Lieutenant Governor Jones just before the senate adjourned.

The senate will cast 17 votes for Hanna and 18 against him. If Hanna is not stronger in the house than the Boxwell ticket was today when Boxwell received 58 votes and Mason 50 for speaker then Senator Hanna would have only 70 votes on joint ballot, and 73 are necessary to election. Notwithstanding the result in the organization in both houses, both sides seem equally confident in claiming the senatorial on joint ballot.

CLEVELAND, January 3.—The president and secretary of the Tippecanoe Club, the big central Republican organization of the city today, sent the following telegram to Senator Burke and Representatives Mason and Brainerd, the three bolting Republicans from this country:

"The officers of the Tippecanoe Club express for themselves and the Republicans generally throughout the city disapproval at your action in not standing by the instructions of the county and state conventions. The members of the club are very indignant."

A telegram was also sent to Governor Bushnell, expressing disappointment at his position in the senatorial contest. A meeting of the club has been called to protest against the action of Burke, Brainerd and Mason.

Two members of the committee of the club to arrange for a special train to Dayton print the following special from Dayton, Ohio: Dayton's entire delegation to the Bushnell inauguration has refused to go to the parades on account of the governor's attitude in the senatorial fight. This includes the uniformed bodies and the political clubs. President Archibald of the Blaine Club, Cincinnati, said that the Blaine Club, Cincinnati, would attend the inauguration, no matter what other clubs do.

COTTON MILLS CUT WAGES.

WORCESTER, Mass., January 3.—Reductions in wages took place in several Worcester county factories today, cotton mills predominating. At the Millbury mills, Sturbridge, reduction about the same as at the wage reductions adopted by the cotton mills in Fall River went into force. About seventy-five men employed in the bottling department of the E. & A. H. Fletcher shoe factory at North Brookfield had their wages cut from 1 to 2 cents a case.

WHEAT DROPS OFF

Little Present Inclination to Purchase.

Heavy Clearances From Atlantic Ports Form the Most Encouraging Element.

CHICAGO, January 3.—Wheat started easier and at lower prices, May at 92c, which showed 2½ cent decline since Friday. Liverpool showed ½ cent decline to begin with and northwheat receipts did not by any means suggest an immediate falling off in volume. These were the features in the early news which apparently created a desire to sell at the start and also extinguished for the time being any inclination to buy.

In the first thirty minutes trading may declined to 91½c. Trading at the best was rather slow. Chicago receipts were liberal. About the only distinctly bullish item in the day's statistical news was the clearance from Atlantic ports, their amount being equal in wheat and flour to 651,000 bushels.

The announcement of these figures injected a little firmness into the dropping market, and May wheat in the meantime had dropped to 91c, reaching that figure about 12 o'clock, recovering slowly to 91½ cents. It declined again to 91½ cents, but in the last few minutes trading reacted again to 91½ to 3¢, where it closed.

Corn was heavy at the start and became still weaker as the session progressed, closing practically at bottom prices, with a loss of 5¢.

Oats were weak all day. May clearing to ½ cent lower. Provisions were active, strong and higher. The market closed strong, May pork 10 cents higher; May lard 7½ cents higher and May ribs 5 cents higher.

Romantic End of Two Young Lovers.

INDICATIONS THAT THE GIRL SHOT HER SWEETHEART AND THEN HERSELF.

Four WAYNE, Ind., January 3.—At Monteville today the dead bodies of Miss Viola Marquon, aged 23, daughter of a wealthy farmer, and Michael Miller, aged 24, a saloonkeeper, were found lying in a room in the rear of Miller's saloon. Miller lay in the bed at the side of the room. Blood from a bullet wound in his right temple covered the bed clothing.

Viola lay in a heap in the middle of the floor shot to death in the same place. A revolver with two chambers empty lay near her right hand. Both bodies were in street dress. Two letters, one purporting to be from Viola and the other from young Miller, were found. It was the declaration that they wanted to die together.

The coroner says it would have been impossible to more after delivering the fatal shot. The letters tend to prove a double suicide, but the revolver by the girl's hand cannot be accounted for, except by the theory that she died after her lover.

The Sad Experience of Two Stowaways.

Concealed Themselves in the Ice Receptacle and Were Sealed Up.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 3.—Andrew Jacobson and Harry Olbrisen, two sailors from Seattle, had a thrilling experience on the steamer Umatilla, which arrived from the north today. The men belonged to the crew of the schooner Vista, which was wrecked on Vancouver Island, ten miles south of Carmel light, on the morning of December 12th last, and after being rescued made their way to Seattle, where they remained in a hospital for some days.

Being unable to obtain employment after having been discharged from the hospital, they resolved to try their luck in this city. On the morning of December 30th they boarded the Umatilla and stowed themselves behind a pile of rope in the forecastle. Being afraid of discovery, they sought a better hiding place, and finally crept into one of the cold storage compartments just as the vessel left Port Townsend.

As usual, however, these compartments were sealed up by the customs officials and the stowaways were almost frozen to death before they were discovered and liberated, which was not until yesterday afternoon. Both were too exhausted to move, but medical treatment and food soon restored them.

Swallowed Carbolic Acid.

LOS ANGELES, January 3.—The wife of Charles Harris, an employee of the Hub clothing store, committed suicide today by taking carbolic acid. Two weeks ago she attempted the same thing but was prevented by her husband. She seemed to have developed a suicidal mania. She was 26 years old.

THE SUPERVISORS

The Political Ax Is Wielded.

Two Republican Victims of the Triumvirate.

Janitor Rose Also Ousted—Mr. Manly Placed in an Unpleasant Light.

The Board of Supervisors convened yesterday for the January session, and the majority, consisting of Mease, Manly, Sayre and Ward, began the new year's business with a batch. Two men, who were so unfortunate as to be Republicans, were decapitated, and one Populist, who had fallen from the grace of the triumvirate, was also led to the block, where his brother Populist, Mr. Manly, assisted in the execution.

Shortly after the board met the matter of appointing county employees was taken up. All those who served last year were reelected, excepting George Jewell, manager of the county farm. Louis Fagundes was the only man who wanted to be keeper of the insane ward. Ward named William McSwain for the place, however, and McSwain was the successful man, receiving three votes to two for Fagundes.

When the appointment of a park overseer was taken up J. A. Rose, the janitor, was nominated by Supervisor Garrott and H. F. Martin by Supervisor Manly. Supervisor Rose called attention to the fact that the law provided for a park overseer, the position being in the control of the sheriff. Mr. Rose could see no reason for maintaining two men at park overseers, when one could attend to the duties. The second man was but an imposition on the taxpayers, and the supervisor spoke strongly against making the unnecessary appointment.

As a result of Mr. Rose's remarks the matter of electing a park overseer was laid over till today.

After this the board did little business before adjourning.

Mrs. Pierce was reinstated on the instant at $8 a month.

Mrs. Corinne L. Seymour, president of the Orphans' Home Association, reported that there were City inmates in the orphanage on January 1st. Not one of these is a full orphan, some even having both parents living.

A man whose name was not obtained applied to the board to be permitted to go to the hospital. Dr. Davidson was communicated with and he opposed the application. The county physician explained that he had performed an operation on the man last summer at the hospital and before he had recovered sufficiently the fellow stole some money in the hospital and sneaked away, going over to the races. He played the money in the pools.

The board decided that it could not give such a man assistance and Chairman Sayre instructed the clerk, Ed Bush, to inform the applicants. Mr. Bush, who is serving as clerk of the board during the temporary absence of Clerk Johnson in San Francisco, conveyed the information to the man, who was sitting behind the railing.

The fellow seemed to think his rights as an American citizen had been ruthlessly trampled upon. "What am I going to do? I am sick and haven't got any money?" he queried.

Bush told him that if he had behaved himself he would not be asking such questions.

The two bridges across Kings river and Zolita canal have been completed, and the board will probably visit them in a body come this week.

LOW BORN COMMUNICATION.

REPUBLICAN.—I desire to make a statement through the columns of your paper in regard to my discharge from the position of courthouse janitor by the supervisors yesterday. There are a few facts in connection with the matter that I think the public ought to know.

I was elected to the position of janitor a year ago, assuming it on February 1, 1897. Since that time I have had the care of the county building in my charge, and so far as I know no one has ever had a word of complaint against me.

But yesterday came the opportunity to reward these faithful ones by giving them county jobs, and now they are happy. Just how the country Democratic relish the idea of the city politicians running things for the county as well, is something that will probably be revealed later on.

The appointments made yesterday were all on the condition that the employee should serve "at the pleasure of the board." This means that if every man does not do his duty as a Democratic majority sees it he'll get the boot.

The board convened at 2 o'clock in the afternoon with all the members present.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and approved, warrant was ordered drawn in favor of Mrs. Smart, Cox for $150 in payment for a right of way for the J. H. Sprague road.

Mrs. Chidester, an indigent, was allowed an order for $10 worth of groceries. Mrs. Ella Phillips was granted $6 for temporary relief. Mrs. E. Buraside was reinstated on the indigent list at $10 a month.

Then the election of county employees was taken up.

For the position of county physician the applicants were Dr. J. D. Davidson, who has held the place for the past three years, and Dr. C. H. Adair, formerly county health officer and at present city health officer. The salary of the county physician is $133.33 a month, and no reduction was made yesterday, although Dr. Adair made the following offer:

"To the Honorable Board of Supervisors:

"I respectfully submit that for the year 1898, if appointed county physician by your honorable board, I will attend the sick of the county hospital, jail and orphanage, giving the same amount of attention that has heretofore been given; and in addition will attend to the duties of the county health office, giving an ample and sufficient hand for the faithful performance of all duties pertaining to these offices for a salary of $90 a month. Davidson was absent, receiving four votes. Supervisor Rose alone voted for Adair.

SPINNEY ABSENT

So Hart Is Still Fire Chief.

Trustees Chittenden and McVey Were Uneasy.

A Deadlock Over a Motion To Approve Truman Hart's Election.

The city trustees met last evening with Messrs. Graycroft, McVey, Austin and Chittenden present. Trustee Spinney was not in evidence, and as he was not ill last evening it is presumed that some important matters caused him to remain away.

Trustee Chittenden and McVey were very serious over some matter and appeared to be ill at ease during the whole evening. They seemed to think that board was not competent to transact business during Spinney's absence. When the matter of confirming the election of Truman G. Hart as chief of the Fresno fire department came up the Democratic trustees looked perplexed. Both expressed a desire to postpone the matter until a full board was present, as only four out of five members were in attendance.

The proceedings of the board in regular order were as follows:

After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and approved P. J. Duncan was granted a permit to build an extension on his livery stable on Front street.

Al Baker's petition for a liquor license came up for the first reading.

A permit was granted J. R. Wolf to build a 10x12 office and a corrugated iron shed at the corner of Tulare and H streets.

Petitions for a lateral sewer through blocks 101 and 102 were read and approved.

City Recorder Clark reported that he had not collected any fees during the month of December.

Marshal M. L. Way reported collections for December as follows: Regular licensees, $877.60; fractional licensees, $71.65; personal property taxes, $27.81; real estate, $2193.76; poll taxes, $1150.

Treasurer C. H. Sweet reported cash in the several funds to follow: General, $21,436.75; street, $29,130.67; sewer, $1,572.93; library, $2,077.43; fire fund, $6,151.84; No. 2, $29,34.07; No. 3, $8,561.24; No. 4, $586.67; No. 6, $3168.40; utility, $47.82; total on hand, $36,000.04.

The report of the fire department's election of officers was then received.

Trustee Austin moved that the nominations be accepted. There was no second to this motion.

Trustee Chittenden and McVey seemed at a loss for anything to say. There was a silence for a few moments and then an idea struck Trustee McVey. He moved that the report be laid on the table for one week. Chittenden seconded the motion, saying it was important to have the full board present when the matter was considered.

McVey's motion was defeated by a tie vote, the Democratic trustees standing pat on the proposition and Graycroft and Austin opposing.

Austin repeated his motion in favor of confirming the nomination of Hart as chief. Graycroft seconded the motion and requested McVey to take the chair.

Mayor Craycroft demanded immediate action upon the matter of confirming Truman Hart as chief. He said that the trustees were in duty bound to confirm the chief elected by the fire department.

Trustee Chittenden objected to the consideration of the matter and asked that the trustees adjourn until Friday, Thursday or Wednesday evening; anything but action upon the subject under consideration at last evening's meeting was desired.

Attorney Frank Short was present and stated that the law required the trustees to confirm at their next regular meeting after the election, the fire chief selected by the department.

Oly Attorney Lewis H. Smith also informed the trustees that the law required action by the trustees at the first regular meeting night after the election of a chief by the department. The law is very plain, he said, and there is no way of electing a chief except by confirming the selection of the department.

Chittenden waited upon adjournment until some future time, and Temporary Chairman McVey endeavored to prevent a vote upon Austin's motion to confirm Hart's election. He seemed to think it was out of order.

Trustee Austin and Graycroft insisted upon a vote and the result was two eyes and two nays upon the motion.

It was a deadlock and Trustee Spinney will be responsible for any future decision of the matter. He has been friendly to Hart in the past and may conclude that the Democrats are asking too much of him when they desire that he clip off Hart's official head as chief.

The trustees again proceeded to business and approved the bill that had been passed on by the auditing committee.

It was moved by Chittenden and seconded by Austin that the trustees adjourn until Thursday evening.

James Kerrick, whose skull was fractured at Sanger recently, is gradually improving, although his mind has not yet recovered from the shock. It will be remembered that Dr. A. J. Pedler and Dr. W. P. Miller performed a delicate operation to relieve the pressure upon the injured man's brain. In the accident Kerrick was thrown from a buggy and fell upon his forehead, crushing the frontal bone and cracking the skull.

"NE PLUS ULTRA."

The Copper Mine of That Name Sold.

A Stockton Syndicate the Purchaser—Development Work Is in Progress.

The old Ne Plus Ultra copper mine, located on the Danlton ranch on the line between Mendota and Raymond in Madera county, has been sold to a Stockton syndicate.

The mine was first discovered by the N. L. Bachman, and in 1865 a camp was formed and incorporated with Judge G. G. Sayle as president and Judge E. O. Winchell as secretary. The mine was operated a number of years, no one being buried to Stockton by express and thence shipped to Swanson in San Fran, for reduction, it being somewhat ill-fated in character, and there being at that time no reduction works on this side.

The mine was closed down in 1877 owing to the low price of copper and the rates of freight demanded by the road.

In June, 1880, the parties to the purchase, under a contract, resumed work on the mine and the result was satisfactory, that they have taken advantage of the option and will erect reduction works on the ground. The first payment has been made already, and the working of the mine will be pushed by the new owners.

Besides the Danlton estate there are several proprietors interested. Judge Sayle is the present president of the company; N. L. Bachman is secretary, Alex Goldstein is treasurer and Judge Seth Mead of Oakland and John F. Danlton are the other directors. The estate of Dr. Lewis Louch and A. H. Biagingson, as well as Judge Winchell, hold extensive interests in the stock.

The recent developments show a fine quality of "peacock" ore. The mine is probably one of the best on the coast and its development will undoubtedly contribute greatly to the prosperity of Madera county and place its various mines on a better basis.

TEMPERANCE ADDRESSES.

Overflow Meeting Had to Be Provided Sunday Evening.

The temperance meetings held in the K street Methodist church and the First Presbyterian church on Sunday evening were very largely attended.

There had been but one announced, that in the M. E. church. The one in the Presbyterian church was an overflow meeting, and while the M. E. church was packed to its utmost capacity, the other was quite well filled.

The principal speakers were Dr. G. A. Bateman, grand lecturer, and Rev. F. E. Conover, local counselor of the I.O.G.T. The former spoke for forty minutes in the Presbyterian church, and the other for the same length of time in the M. E. church. Then they changed places, so that each audience was privileged to hear both.

Some telling truths were presented by each of them that will be well for the people to hear in soul and act upon.

Several of the local clergy took brief parts in the meeting. Revs. Carpenter, Burbank, Graves and Martin at the M. E. church, and Revs. Eccles and Munro at the Presbyterian church.

P. AND C. OIL COMPANY.

Officers Elected Yesterday for the Ensuing Year.

The stockholders of the Producers and Consumers Oil Company held their annual meeting yesterday and elected the following directors for the ensuing year: T. G. Hart, L. L. Cory, Frank Barrett, K. W. Brown and I. F. Poston. The directors selected the following officers: Frank Barrett, president; I. F. Poston, vice president; T. G. Hart, treasurer; K. W. Brown, secretary. Captain Barrett represented the eastern stockholders at the meeting. They own a large share of the stock in the company.

The company has extensive interests in the West Side oil district and owns several valuable wells. It has met with great success in its ventures and will continue the work of development on energetic lines.

WILLIAMS REPLIES.
Says the "Republican's" Report Was Not Exaggerated.

ERRONEOUS REPORT.—In reply to the article appearing in your paper of January 23, referring to an article that was published a few days before that which dealt with the "dog case," permit me to say: I do not know who furnished your reporter with the facts which made up the article last referred to, but will say that, save the statement therein contained that Mr. Carter "stepped before the jury," the article was in every part true and correct and gave a detailed statement of what actually occurred during the trial of the case.

The defendant in the case was Dominic Imperatrice and the client referred to was I. M. Durrant. I am informed that Mr. Carter was released in the case several days before its trial and, in the pursuance of my duty "I passed the prosecution of the case." I did not disgrace the defense of the case, Mr. Carter did not verbally castigate me, but in a way peculiar to himself, in most wanton and unprovoked manner insulted me "without just cause or provocation" and for no reason.

The gentleman's conduct was such that Recorder Clark did tell him to stop and said to him, "I can't permit you to use any such language in this court." His demeanor during the argument of the case was not of that calm and placid character that he would have us to believe, but was excited and angry beyond control.

The remarks with which I am charged was not referred to by Mr. Carter in his argument in the same language as he referred to it in his article, but was us referred:

I stated that I did not remember who testified to a certain state of facts, whether it was the defendant's wife or not. No one in the court room construed it in any other light than it was said, and it did not sound to any save the maliciously inclined as an insult.

Mr. Carter's interpretation of the words is the extreme and he knew it at the time.

If the defendant was very indignant he did not show it, for there was no animosity or no apparent anger upon the part of any one at the time.

Mr. Carter did use the word "stinkin'" by his denial to the contrary notwithstanding.

I am personally willing to let Mr. Carter characterize my conduct in court in this case or any other, as pettigreeing, and will be content with the judgment upon that issue of the entire nature of his presence, was uncharged by Justice Martin when the case was called for trial today. The charges against General Dickinson was today hunting for Governor Budd to ask him to set a date for the hearing of the appeal for a commutation of the sentence. The lawyer telephoned to Sacramento, but no idea of the governor's whereabouts could be obtained there. The search will be continued, however, and the governor may once more be compelled to pass upon the man who stands so close to death.

The lawyers are making what probably is the most remarkable fight in the criminal annals of the United States.

WILL TRY AGAIN

Durrant's Attorneys Will Not Give Up.

Governor Budd Will be Asked to Review the Testimony.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 3.—Political influence, personal friendship and an abundance of legal lore will be brought to bear upon Governor Budd to commute or at least reprieve Theodore Durrant, or W. W. Poote, General Dickinson, J. C. Campbell, Eugene Denney and a large number of others will probably seek the governor to spare the condemned man until the appeal now pending in the state supreme court can be finally determined.

It is understood that great influence will be brought to bear upon the chief executive to have him grant another lease of life, for the gentlemen mentioned boldly assert that Durrant should not hang upon the evidence as presented at the trial. "It is time only we want," said the attorneys of the condemned man, "and justice will not suffer for a few months longer delay."

General Dickinson was today hunting for Governor Budd to ask him to set a date for the hearing of the appeal for a commutation of the sentence. The lawyer telephoned to Sacramento, but no idea of the governor's whereabouts could be obtained there. The search will be continued, however, and the governor may once more be compelled to pass upon the man who stands so close to death.

CARMAN ACQUITTED.

The Charge of Fraudulent Land Sales Fails Flat.

CHICAGO, January 3.—D. W. Carmen of San Francisco, who was charged by William Birns of this city and a number of others with obtaining money by false pretenses, was discharged by Justice Martin when the case was called for trial today. The charges against the defendant were that he sold the land in California, and it did not sound to any save the maliciously inclined as an insult.

SKELETONS IN CLUBS.

THE QUEER PERFORMANCES OF THE TWO BLANKS OF NEW YORK.

Mystery of the Man Who Stole Food at Free Luncheons—Another Man With a Mysterious Name Who Took to Wearing Old Clothes and Was Dropped.

A decently dressed man, with a shambling gait and a shifty eye, walked down Broad street one afternoon last week and attracted the attention of a hunker who was standing in his office window. The hunker watched the man closely until the fellow had disappeared around the corner into Wall street. He had called a visitor's attention to the man.

"Have you ever seen that fellow before?" he asked.

"His face is familiar, and I am sure that I have seen him somewhere, but I can't place him. Who is he?"

"John Blank," said the hunker, mentioning a family name that was well known. "I am a member of three good clubs," continued the broker, naming three that one would naturally place at the head of the list of New York clubs, "and in the course of a long experience with the management of them I have seen some curious club skeletons. They are unpleasant. Blank wins a skeleton in the ---- club until we finally got rid of him, and so this day none of the men who knew the facts about his expulsion has ever had any explanation of them."

"So far as family connections are concerned, Blank is eligible to any club in this city, and we always understood that he had a good income. It was about two years ago, when I was a member of the house committee, that my attention was first called to Blank. A member of the club came to me one day and said:

"See here. I've got a disagreeable duty to perform. You know that refreshments are served at every regular meeting of the club, and I have noticed for several months back that John Blank's has stowed away a lot of things in his pockets on every such occasion."

"Why, that is absurd," I replied,

"and I suspect that he has been drifting too much. You know that these members' lunches are free to the members."

"That was the view that I took of it the first time that I noticed it," he replied, "but I watched this man at the meetings very closely. He was not intoxicated. He ate his lunch, and then I saw him wrap up a piece of chicken, some lettuce salad and a piece of ice cream in separate packages, put them under his overcoat and leave the club. It's an amazing proceeding, and I think that it is high time that something was done about it."

"This man's complaint interested me, and I investigated it. Some of the club waiters told me that Blank had occasionally taken articles of small value from the club, and that he always carried away a package or a free supper. There seemed to be no reasonable explanation for his little steals. He was and his lawyer in great practice, and, as you know, he lives very comfortably. I consulted with some of the other house committee, and we decided to let go of Blank for the next supper. He turned up promptly, and, sure enough, we saw him stealthily make up a package from the lunch table and walk out with it. There was nothing left for us to do but to ask for an explanation.

"Charges were preferred against him and a formal notification was sent to him. Blank paid no attention to it. We thought that he might not have received it and we sent him another notification and made sure that it reached him. Blank ignored it, and then we dropped him for conduct unbecoming a gentleman. Blank never came near the clubhouse after his first notification, and so far as I know he has never given an indication of regarding our action in dropping him. Now what do you suppose was the explanation of his thefts? I never have been able to find out that was satisfactory. It has been asserted that despite his large income he is naturally a very miserly fellow, but that is merely gossip. I met him occasionally, and he is always affable. It was a disgraceful affair, and to this day an inexplicable one."

A man who had listened attentively to the broker's story said:

"I am equal that with an experience in my own club. The man in question has recently died and it is only charitable to say that he was probably insane for several years before he died. He was Arthur Blank"—mentioning a historical name. "About three years ago this man began to wear very shabby clothes. He had always been very careful in his dress, and this change was surprising. He came to the club and sat around looking like a tramp. His hair was ragged, and even the waiters looked askance at his clothes. I knew that he had money, but it was not a pleasant task to suggest to him that he should get some new clothes. He was an old bachelor, and he had rooms in an expensive bachelor apartment house. His condition was a disgrace to the club and as a last resort half a dozen of his old friends got up a purse of $100 and went to his tailor and ordered a new suit of clothes for him. They told the tailor that it was in payment of a wager. When the suit was made, they packed it in a box with a new hat, shoes, collar, shirt and two shirts and sent it to Blank. A letter was enclosed which read:

"DEAR BLANK.—By express I send you the outfit that I lost by my last election wager."

"The signature was such that no one could read it. There was some suspicion as to how Blank would take this hint. Two days later he turned up at the club in his new clothes, and when he was congratulated on them, he said they were the result of an election wager. The new clothes were too much for him, however. He got drunk on the strength of them and stood drunk at the club for the next two weeks, when he was dropped from membership."—Courier Magazine.

CYCLING AND ASTHMA.

A London Physician Says the Former Will Cure the latter.

Dr. Marcus of London recommends bicycle riding as a remedy for asthma. Here is what he says about it in a letter to The Medical Record: "If asthma is a form of morbid sickness and if that distressing affection of high altitude can be cured by training for the exercise of climbing, why should not man also yield to the training of the respiration carried out by practicing the respiratory movements needed to carry the vital air through the lungs? Of all means of training respiration I think cycling is the best. When a person first takes a cycling exercise, it will be found, especially on going up hill, that the breath is whistling, the heart beats uncomfortably and the legs tire, but after training these discomforts disappear, nothing will be thought of climbing hills, the heart has become perfectly comfortable, all breathlessness has disappeared and the legs will no longer feel fatigued."

"Cycling exercise, first of all, increases the depth of breathing, and that without fatigue, as the respiratory movements are automatic. At the same time it will accentuate the ride instinctively to take in each respiration the volume of air required to aerate the blood. Persons who do not care for cycling out of doors can take the same kind of exercise at home by means of a stationary cycle, consisting of an iron wheel driven by pedals, the resistance of the wheel being so contrived as to simulate bicycle riding. A strap encircles partly around the rim of the wheel, thus increasing the labor and requiring the effort of riding up hill. My experience of the results of this treatment is unfortunately limited to only one person. In this case it has proved eminently successful. This person took to bicycle riding three years ago for pleasure and in very great moderation for the first two years. He observed that the attacks of asthma to which he was subject became fewer. The tightness and wheezing which occurred every night have now entirely disappeared."

NO MACKINTOSH.

Contre-Effects of the Absence of one on a Friend of Colonel Calligan.

"I know a man once," said Colonel Calligan, "a young man who had everything that heart could wish for notwithstanding that fact was a pretty same and sensible sort of young man, but who nevertheless did at times in his younger days before he had learned the philosophy of life occasionally have periods of depression. In one of them on his way home once from Europe he came to the conclusion that life wasn't worth living, and he made up his mind to end it all right there by jumping overboard. As he looked over the rail and realized how wet the water was and how much there was of it he knew that he ought not to go out in it without a mackintosh.

"Going home, he discovered that he had neglected to bring one. On this occasion of all others when he wanted one most he had none. But he couldn't think of encountering the wet inappropriately clad, and so he deferred jumping overboard until he could do so in proper form. Next morning, with the restlessness of youth, he was feeling better, and he arrived in New York buoyant, hopeful and strong.

"And, curiously enough, while in other respects he remained as punctilious as ever about his dress, he never after that wore a mackintosh, and he went out in all sorts of weather without hesitation. It was his carelessness in this regard that led finally to his death. Out without a mackintosh in a heavy rain at the age of 97, he caught a cold that settled on his lungs, developed into pneumonia and carried him off, and so it may be said on my friend that he owed his long life and his death to the same cause."—New York Sun.

Irish Dueling Code.

The Irish dueling code has been adopted with certain modifications by duels both in England and the United States. It was drawn up by the Irish bar at the Colonial assemblies in 1777 and appears to aim at so arranging matters that no Irishman anxious to fight shall be balked by his wish. "The first offense requires the first apology, although the retort may be more offensive."

"After one fire the retort may be explained away. But if either party," the code hastens to add, "would rather fight on, after two shots each the principal who made the retort may explain and then the original offender tender his apology." "When the lie direct is the first offense, the aggressor must either beg pardon in express terms, exchange two shots previous to apology, or three shots followed by explanation, or fire on till a severe hit be scored by one of the parties." "No 'dumb firing,' or firing in the air, is admissible." "In slight cases the second and third principals, but one pistol, in gross cases two, holding another case ready charged in reserve."—Courier Magazine.
